Who shall say that if the sovereigns of Utah choose to enact that fine and imprisonment, ball and chain, configuration and these new political and religious revelations, we may as well make up our minds to such developments first as last.

Another interesting feature of Mormon ism is, that the real estate in the valley of the Salt Lake, comprising the city which is the head-quarters, is the proper of the Mormon priesthood. The nominal proprietors forfeit their lands by leaving the valley or abjuring the faith. If they sell, the bill of sale is declared invalid. Nobody but Mormons can hold property in the city. Gentiles may hire, but if they become troublesome or refractory they will be "whittled out" or driven away. Mormons evidently have the most finished and complete system of squatter cover-eignty extant, and have perfected it in detail as well as theory. We are not sure that our political prophets are not indebted to them for the germs of the doctrine. Certainly Mormonism was the first practical exhibition of the system, and the Executive of the United States, in appointing as Governor the arch impostor, recognized and indersed it .- North American.
